Strategic Thought Partner

We rely on New Breed as a strategic thought partner when it comes to all things RevOps--big and small. They are consistently available with the experience and knowledge needed to make thoughtful recommendations on how to accomplish our goals. We have accomplished some things that I am super proud of, and I look forward to accomplishing a lot more. (Shout out to Wyatt Borchetta-Platt!!)

New Breed was a huge help!

Working with Frannie and New Breed was one of the best decisions we made. We looked at a few options and felt like New Breed had the best process that would ultimately help us with our immediate needs as well as set us up for success in the future. They helped us repair a lot of old tech debt and reorganize our instance to sync successfully with SFDC. We also improved our form strategy which will keep us organized moving forward.

Great Partner!

The team at NewBreed has been terrific from the start. We engaged them to integrate a billing system into HubSpot and help us accelerate our revenue operations systems. They met us where we were and helped map out a path and execute the steps to get to where we wanted to be. Highly recommended!

Need to integrate something that isn't listed here? We work with thousands of platforms.

Real-World Use Case

Customer Challenge

Siloed data between a key LMS platform and HubSpot CRM data created a disjointed user experience and generated ongoing manual work for internal stakeholders.

New Breed Solution

A bi-directional integration between the LMS and HubSpot CRM bridged the platforms and synced their data, improving efficiency and enhancing customer experience.
